

Bandall

Band and Brand Technology

Bandall is an innovative band and brand technology, which Opal has exclusive distribution rights in Australia and New Zealand.

How does it work?

It “bands” or provides a wrap-around for the packaging to secure the products within.

It also simultaneously “brands” or labels the packaging with promotional content such as logos, product information and QR codes for authenticity and storytelling.

Benefits:

- Multiple market applications
- Ideal for packaging solutions such as corrugated fresh produce punnets
- An alternative to plastic wrapping, as the packaging wrap-around is paper-based
- Reduces packaging waste, as the ability to band and brand packaging allows our customers to avoid additional packaging material, such as the full plastic wrapping around punnet cartons
- Fast application of wrap-around to packaging
- Sustainable solution, as the paper used in the wrap-around meets kerbside recyclability
- Bandall machinery can be fully integrated into a packing line
- Portable machine options are available
